BERLIN (AP)—The U.S. farm delegation to the Soviet Union headed homeward today advocating more such exchanges of visits between Americans and Russians.

"They have the most to gain by exchanges now, but later we might gain considerably," said the leader of the group, Dean W. V. Lambert of the University of Nebraska Agricultural School.

The party of farmers, educators and newsmen arrived in Berlin by plane yesterday after a month's tour of Soviet farm-lands in Russia, the Ukraine and Siberia. They split up here, some remaining in Berlin for a few days, some flying home directly and others stopping in other West European cities.

Lambert said "we made some friends in Russia and the tension we first felt when we went there did not exist when we left."

"Similar exchanges would be desirable to break down the barriers," he continued. "These people are tremendously isolated, and anything we can do in this direction would be helpful."

Another of the group, Ferris S. Owen of Newark, Ohio, said the Russian peasant has only the bare necessities of life—a roof over his head and enough clothing and simple food. But "they all felt they have it better now than ever before," he added.

The farmers said everywhere they went "the simple Russian was friendly." Dr. William E. Reed, dean of the Agricultural and Technical College at Greensboro, N. C., said the average Russian "has no conception of capitalism." He thinks there are a few rich people in the United States, but that the rest of Americans live in poverty, he said.

The Americans left behind a frank, 14-point program for improving Soviet agriculture. They recommended that the Russians use more machinery and less central control, and that they seek agreement with the United States for an exchange of experts and technical publications.

Moscow radio said today that the Soviet government greatly appreciated the visitors' criticisms of its agricultural methods.

The Americans were hailed their tour as a "great success." Their enthusiasm was evidenced in their report, a chief point of which was their plea that such visits be expanded and widened in the future.

Among other points, the American delegation commented on the controversial corn-growing sponsored by Russian Communist party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev. The visitors recommended a "close study of this field of research in the United States" to help the program along.

The U. S. Farmers' recommendations were presented to Ivan A. Benediktov, Soviet minister of state farms, and other top Russian agricultural officials at a 2½-hour session in the Agricultural Ministry.

At this talkfest, the Russians disclosed unstintingly facts and figures about their agriculture.

Judging from the friendly manner with which the Russians received the unofficial American suggestions, there is a good chance for further exchanges between the two countries provided the U. S. government agrees.

Scattered Storms

Showers and thunderstorms this afternoon and over southeast early tonight. Partly cloudy tonight, low 60's. Tuesday partly cloudy, less humid with moderate temperatures. Yesterday's high, 96; low, 74.

LARGE SECTIONS OF NEW YORK STATE are under flood waters and the American Red Cross declared the city of Port Jervis and its environs a disaster area. Rapidly rising rivers and heavy rains caused property damage in the millions. Thousands of homes and summer cottages had to be abandoned. More than 100 marooned persons had to be rescued by Army helicopters. At top, a view of the Delaware River made at a point where a railroad bridge was swept from the flood's path. At bottom, people stand on roofs of houses flooded by the torrential rains at Port Jervis, awaiting rescue.

North African Rioting Leaves 800 Death Toll

French Chieftains Hurry To Confab With Morocco Leaders

CASABLANCA (AP)—Grim French troops and Foreign Legionnaires chased rebel bands in Morocco's hills today as the official death toll from bloody weekend rioting across French North Africa neared the 800 mark.

Quick action restored a semblance of order in Algeria, where most casualties occurred, but violence continued in Morocco as French foot troops supported by tanks and jet planes fought back at the terrorists.

Economical Atomic Power Seen Coming To World Fast

GENEVA (AP)—Universally economical industrial atomic power may not be just around the corner, but it's certainly on its way fast.

That is clear from reports and discussions at the atoms-for-peace conference which closed here this weekend after revealing much new information on the private life of the atom, and its uses and potentialities for industry, medicine and agriculture.

The United States put a time schedule of "15 to 20 years" for the realization of atomic power generally competitive with orthodox fuels in that country, rich in conventional fuels and having few transportation problems.

The need for atomic power might be cheap enough for some of her needs in a decade. Britain boldly said that by 1975 she expected 40 per cent of her electric power to be furnished by nuclear energy.

And Russia said she would have "several hundred thousand kilowatts" of installed nuclear power in operation by 1960, in addition to a 100,000-kilowatt plant to be completed within a year.

The need for atomic power obviously is greater in Russia, which has vast areas lacking in power fuels, and in Britain, which already is importing coal.

Red Cross Asks Aid, Allocates $2 Million To Assist Survivors

By The Associated Press

A staggering task of rehabilitation faced flood-wrecked communities of the northeastern U. S. today as stunned survivors found the death toll mounting and over 34,000 families routed from their homes.

As additional victims were discovered it appeared that the death toll would go well above the 200 mark. There were at least 130 others missing.

Koreans To Free Yank Flier Shot Down In Unarmed Plane

SEOUL (AP)—Air Force Lt. Guy H. Bumpas of Jackson, Miss., is scheduled to recross the line to freedom tomorrow after six days as a Communist prisoner.

The injured aviator will be turned back to the United Nations Command at a point about 12 miles east of Kumwha, on the central Korean front, not far from where his plane was shot down by Red anti-aircraft fire last Wednesday.

He will accompany the body of Army Capt. Charles W. Brown, of West Louisville, Ky., who was an observer-passenger in his small unarmed plane.

Brown was killed as a result of the crash, the Communists claim. Bumpas suffered a possible skull fracture.

The Army will have a big helicopter and a doctor standing by to meet him.

The Communists yesterday told Maj. Gen. Harlan C. Parks, senior Allied delegate to the joint Military Armistice Commission, that Bumpas appeared to be in good condition.

Cosmic Rays' Damage Nil

Scientists Say Tests Disprove Old Theory

HOLLOMAN, N. M. (AP)—Cosmic rays may make your hair turn white, but they're not the outer space threat it was first feared, space medicine experts said today.

They said, "A traveler in the stratosphere should be able to perform duties in a normal manner with no serious after effects."

The announcement followed tests in Michigan in which live monkeys and rats were sent soaring for long periods in big plastic balloons 15 to 20 miles above the surface of the earth.

EARLY TODAY the count stood at more than 210 dead in Morocco, 90 European civilians, 20 French and native troops and more than 100 Moroccan rebels.

The listed toll was 485 terrorists, and 69 French dead in the Constantine area of neighboring Algeria, where the nationalists launched a mass attack in an effort to profit from the Moroccan unrest.

Airplane Lands In Farm Field; Pilot Just Lost

A woman pilot, heading back to Columbus from Newark, lost her way and landed her light, single engine plane in a Pickaway County farm field Sunday morning because she was running out of fuel.

Miss Dorothy Anderson, 31, lives in Columbus and is a civilian worker at Lockbourne Air Force Base. She was not hurt in the forced landing near Darbyville on the Otis Stone-rock farm, Circleville Route 3.

She landed her plane in a field of stubble located on Florence Chapel Pike in Mühlenberg Township, six miles northwest of Route 104.

Dixie's Mine Owners Eye New Pay Hike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dixie coal mine owners gathered today to consider whether they will agree to pay the $2-a-day wage boost just negotiated for the northern segment of the industry.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers Union, signed a new one-year contract Saturday with Harry M. Moses, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators Assn. The Moses group represents northern commercial and "captive" mines owned by the steel industry. They employ about 150,000 of the industry's nearly 200,000 miners.

Lewis said he expects Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Operators Assn., as well as mine owners in Illinois and in Western states, to sign on the same terms.

Benson Lauds Soviet Farm Ambassadors

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson praised the visiting Soviet farm chiefs today as "good ambassadors" of peace — and gave them a pep talk on the virtues of the American free enterprise system.

Benson addressed the visitors, who are winding up a six-week tour of American farms, at a luncheon after exchanging gifts and handshakes at a cordial welcoming session earlier in the day.

"Our harvest in America promises to be a rich one this year," the agriculture secretary said. "In a sense it is richer because you, our Russian neighbors, have come to see it. Your presence here is a symbol that in this harvest there is hope not only of plenty but peace as well."

Harvester Hit By Wildcat Strike

CHICAGO (AP)—With nearly half of International Harvester Company's 40,000 CIO United Auto Workers employees idle in unauthorized walkouts, bargaining talks continued today.

Although the union's strike deadline at 12:01 a. m. Tuesday, seven of the company's 18 plants already are shut down by early work stoppages involving 19,133 employees.

Harvester reportedly offered a 10-cent-an-hour wage increase and a layoff plan similar to those adopted in the automotive industry. The present average hourly wage is about $2.07½.

A union official said there still were several unresolved issues.

Monkeys Used in Test

MONKEYS USED in the test were observed closely before and after their ordeal, but they "be-haved perfectly normally after two flights."

"After watching the exposed animals for six months following the experiments, scientists tentatively concluded that cosmic particles may have been overestimated as hazards to the nerve system, and that a traveler in the stratosphere should be able to perform duties in a normal manner with no serious after effects," the report said.

'Copters Lauded For Flood Work

STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP)—The work of military helicopter units in flood-ravaged Pennsylvania drew a "splendid job" comment today from disaster workers.

The Army, Navy, Marine and Coast Guard aircraft have been everywhere. They've delivered food and medical supplies, rescued the living, recovered the dead and transported rescue teams all over the grim vacationland. The craft have proved useful in support missions in war, but in the peacetime disaster here they have, perhaps, proved their greatest worth.

WILMINGTON (AP)—Members of the Buckeye wing of the Air Force reserves are flying 150 tons of chlorinated lime to flood areas in Connecticut.

Eleven C46 planes are being used for the airlift, the Clinton County Air Force Base announced today. The craft, with double crews of four pilots and two crew chiefs, are making the haul from Harrisburg, Pa., to Hartford, Conn. The lime will be used to purify water supplies.

Midwest Enjoys Solid Cool Wave

CHICAGO (AP)—A general cooling of the Midwest took place early today as cooler air pushing southward across the north and central plains and the western Great Lakes region lowered temperatures from 5 to 15 degrees from yesterday's readings.

In North Dakota and northern Minnesota readings were in the 60s, while the 60s or low 70s were normal elsewhere in this air mass. Showers and thundershowers were common along and ahead of the cool air front.

New Members For CHS Band Are Announced

With the Circleville High School band rehearsal set for tonight at 8:30 p. m., new members have been officially announced by Truman Eberly, director. These include:

Carol Barnes, flute; Marsha Wharton, Darlene Metzler, Diane Hudson and Richard Warner, Clarinets; Teresa Arledge, alto saxophone; Gary Vandemarker, Cindy Rooney and Carol Harrison, trumpets; Georgia Rife, Sheila Bass and Mary Lewis, alto horns;

Elaine Woodward, baritone; Phyllis McCoard, cymbals; Sue Barnes, drum; and Gary Shoults, a transfer student from Chillicothe, trumpet. (Any other transfer students are urged to contact Eberly immediately.)

Tryouts for drum major, majorettes and flag bearers were held last May with the following selections announced:

SUSAN STOCKLEN, head majorette; Marilyn Barthelmas, Sandy Van Fossen, Beverly Brink, Mary Ann Edstrom and Patsy Smith, majorettes; Carolyn Bell and Delores Valentine, flag bearers. Five of the girls attended a majorette camp in Indiana during the summer so some new and varied routines are promised, according to Eberly.

Both Eberly and Barbara Barthelmas, a recent graduate of the band, have been reading a shipment of new music for the marching and music bands.

Swedish Sailors Spot 3 Submarines

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The Swedish navy said today that a Swedish freighter spotted three unidentified submarines off the east coast of Sweden.

It was the seventh time this summer that unidentified foreign submarines have been sighted in Swedish waters. Each time the Soviet Foreign Office has denied that the subs were Russian.

MARKETS

GRAIN FUTURES
CHICAGO (AP)—Grain sold off sharply at the start and then spent the rest of the session trying to climb back up on the Board of Trade today.

The heavy selling in corn and soybeans early followed some unexpected rains over the weekend.

200 Lives Lost In 7 States; Damage Huge

aged, some beyond repair. Bridges were down and roads washed out.

The worst single tragedy occurred near Stroudsburg, Pa., where Brodhead Creek swept over a summer vacation camp and carried away 40 persons, mostly women and children.

Nine persons survived to tell of the horror when the flash flood collapsed a building into which the campers fled.

Brodhead Creek, fed by torrential rains and the collapse of mountain dams, rose 25 to 30 feet within 15 minutes. It devastated parts of Stroudsburg, a Pocono mountain resort center.

Flood-ravaged states reported these conditions today:

Pennsylvania — Thousands of persons inoculated as threat of typhoid fever from contaminated water supplies hangs over north-east section of state. Death toll unofficially placed at 93, but officials believe final figure will go over 100. More rain forecast for today.

Connecticut — At least 68 persons dead and 70 missing. Governor calls floods "greatest disaster ever to strike Connecticut" and places damage at well over a billion dollars. Special session of Legislature called to provide funds.

Massachusetts — At least 13 dead, hundreds left homeless and thousands temporarily jobless. Governor says flood's destruction exceeded that of three hurricanes that struck the state last year.

Rhode Island — One dead. Woonsocket, hardest hit, operates under emergency powers to speed repairs. Thousands idle because of damage to mills.

New Jersey — At least six reported dead, as thousands along Delaware River move back to the battered and waterlogged homes. Civil defense officials estimate damage at millions of dollars.

New York — Four deaths reported in flood-stricken southeastern section. Red Cross still caring for 800 families in emergency shelters. Federal Small Business Administration to set up offices this week to aid industrial plants.

Miss Nancy Bee Goodchild, daughter of Mrs. Paulene Goodchild, of 439 E. Franklin St., will complete her training in the Christ Hospital School of Nursing in Cincinnati next Friday.

She will take state board examinations on Sept. 19. She has accepted a position at the Chicago Wesley Memorial Hospital in Chicago, Ill.

Miss Goodchild is a 1952 graduate of Circleville High School.

Washington Bus Walkout Is Ended

WASHINGTON (AP)—Buses and streetcars rolled again through Washington streets today as AFL transit workers returned to their jobs after a 52-day strike.

The walkout was settled yesterday when the city granted Capital Transit Co. fare increases to offset a 15-cent hourly wage boost for drivers and mechanics.

City's Guard Unit Ranks High At Summer Camp Exercises

Circleville's Ohio National Guard unit, Co. I of the 166th Regimental Combat Team, is making a good account of itself during Summer maneuvers at Camp Breckinridge, Ky.

Th light machine gun crew has been one of the best units within the organization, taking top honors on the firing range. Out of a possible score of 188, three Circleville gunners ranked highest: Cpl. William Y. Harrington had 168, Sgt. Maynard Burns had 157 and Sgt. William Tomlinson 150.

Sgt. Jack Mogan, also of this city, posted the highest score in the regiment in firing of the Browning Automatic Rifle. He had a mark of 116 out of a possible 125.

The 57 mm recoilless rifle squad, led by Sgt. Ralph Coleman of Circleville Route 1, has been referred to as the best in the regiment. He is assisted by Sgt. David Fouch, of Circleville, Cpl. Robert Hanson, of Williamsport, and Pfc. Richard Bowman, of Amanda Route 1.

2 Auto Accidents, 1 House Fire Reported Over Weekend Here

Two auto accidents involving injuries, and a fire in Salt Creek Township head the list of weekend reports from the sheriff's office here.

Saturday night, a one car accident on Jackson Rd., one mile south of Whisler, resulted in injuries to a passenger, Mrs. Edna Nungester, 29, of Circleville Route 1, suffered a lacerated right arm and shock.

James H. Nungester, the husband and driver of the car, told Deputy Sheriff Bill Plum that a car coming from the opposite direction, forced him to skid into a ditch. Mrs. Nungester, whose arm was resting on the door, was hurt when the car smashed into a fence.

Drunk Drivers Again Top List Of Muny Court

Four drunk driving cases head the list of hearings held by city court over the weekend and on Monday.

Herbert A. Nehmer, 26, of Lockbourne Air Force Base, was fined $150, sentenced to five days in jail and had his license suspended for one year for drunk driving. He was arrested by State Patrolman Gene Miller.

Also arrested for drunk driving were: Charles Goodman, 26, of Adelphi, by Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff; Robert Lee Phillips, 27, of Circleville, by Miller; and Clyde McCarty, 51, of Columbus, by Sgt. Turney Ross. Each got $100 and costs, three days in jail and a six months suspension of driving rights.

Other city court cases included: William Lee Minor, 20, of Alliance; Ellsworth Benner, 61, of Columbus; and Richard A. McKee, 22, of Chillicothe; each fined $10 and costs for crossing a yellow line; arrested by Miller.

Paul S. Casteel, 25, of Slant, Va.; $15 and costs for failure to have assured clear distance; arrested by Miller.

Willis Bowshier Jr., 20, of Columbus; $25 and costs for reckless driving; arrested by Miller.

Ronald D. Stevens, 21, of Kingsport; $15 and costs for speeding at 65; arrested by Miller.

Forest Fellure, 27, of Columbus; $15 and costs for speeding at 65; arrested by Deputy Radcliff.

Betty Moore, 26, of Chillicothe; $10 and costs for crossing a yellow line; arrested by Officer Forest Sowards.

North African Rioting Leaves 800 Death Toll

of the French capital's best edited nonpolitical newspapers, said that 1,341 Europeans and Arabs were killed in the rioting. It listed 836 killed and 222 wounded in Algeria. Its figures for Morocco were 505 dead and 230 wounded.

In Morocco, the fighting continued mainly in the hills and the approaches to the Atlas Mountains. The countryside around Marrakech was lit by numerous incendiary fires last night. Jet fighters patrolled overhead. Tanks clanked through the countryside.

The Grand Army itself no longer holds meetings. Its last survivor is 108-year-old Albert Woolson of Duluth, Minn.

But the GAR's descendants carry on in the grand tradition, to keep the union spirit alive. The organizations are the Sons of Union Veterans, whose commander-in-chief, Maj. Gen. Ulysses S. Grant III, is a grandson of the Union general; the Women's Relief Corps of the GAR, the Ladies of the GAR, Daughters of the Union Veterans of the Civil War and the ladies auxiliary of the Sons organization.

BRUCE CATTON, Civil War historian, said in a keynote speech last night that the nation unconsciously committed itself to the great ideals of freedom and union during the conflict. Catton said: "They are ideals that go much farther than people of that time dreamed. They got on and on, forever ahead of us, compelling us to live up to the infinite possibilities that are inherent in humanity itself."

Union, he said, is the idea that human society is a unit and that no man lives to himself alone and "that the things that bind people together are, in the long run, stronger and more sacred than the things that drive them apart."

Catton recalled some Lincoln stories and how Abe handled disciplinary problems: "He once commuted the sentence of a man who had been ordered shot for running away in battle. This man, he said, was just a 'leg case'—a brave enough man, who unfortunately had cowardly legs which he could not keep from carrying him off to the rear when the bullets began to fly. Faced with one set of court-martial papers, he wrote out a pardon with the quizzical remark, 'I don't see how shooting this man is going to do him any good.'"

As they looked, they wondered whether she had made her decision, upon reaching the constitutional age set in the Royal Marriage Act, to wed handsome Group Capt. Peter Townsend, 40-year-old war air hero and divorced father of two sons.

Before she was 25, Margaret could only wed with permission of her sister.

Old, Old Tales Of Civil War Recalled By GAR Affiliates

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Civil War was a live issue today in Cincinnati but partisan passion was not present. Rather it was a time for rekindling the "camp fire" spirit, for rededicating oneself to the ideals of freedom and union and for retelling the old, old stories of Civil War lore.

The occasion was the joint encampment of five groups affiliated with the Grand Army of the Republic.

The Grand Army itself no longer holds meetings. Its last survivor is 108-year-old Albert Woolson of Duluth, Minn.

But the GAR's descendants carry on in the grand tradition, to keep the union spirit alive. The organizations are the Sons of Union Veterans, whose commander-in-chief, Maj. Gen. Ulysses S. ## Princess Mum On Any Plans For Marriage BALLATER, Scotland (AP)—Britain's royal family got ready to barbeque a 200-pound side of beef today as a postscript to Princess Margaret's 25th birthday. The anniversary itself passed yesterday with the world no wiser as to her romantic intentions.

The festivity on the spacious lawns of Balmoral Castle normally would have taken place on Margaret's birthday, but her elder sister Queen Elizabeth II kept the Sabbath quiet in the tradition of her late father.

Margaret sat with her sister and other kin in crowded Crathie Park church yesterday as the Rev. John Lamb intoned:

"This is Princess Margaret's birthday. May she find the fulfillment of her desires."

Some 420 persons who had packed the little church to overflowing watched intently as the pretty young princess bowed her head and moved her lips in silent prayer.

As they looked, they wondered whether she had made her decision, upon reaching the constitutional age set in the Royal Marriage Act, to wed handsome Group Capt. Peter Townsend, 40-year-old war air hero and divorced father of two sons.

Before she was 25, Margaret could only wed with permission of her sister.

World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press
News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Every once in a while the American educational system gets rapped on the head for failing to give the youth of the country a sufficient grounding in democracy.

The latest rap comes from the special committee of government officials and retired officers which studied the problem of American prisoners of war captured by the Communists in Korea.

This committee blamed the armed forces for not preparing their men while in service for what they faced later when taken prisoner: the indoctrination and propaganda tactics of the Communists.

But the committee said: "The prisoners of war (who were taken in by the Communists) had lost their battle before they entered the service. Good citizens—loyal Americans—the responsibility for their building lies with their home, the school, the church, the community."

The committee suggested government agencies get together with civilian educational institutions, churches and other patriotic organizations to prove better understanding of American ideals.

The committee frankly said the Communists "made fools" of some American POWs and "tools of others" with their indoctrination tricks and propaganda when they held up communism as the salvation of the world and Karl Marx as mankind's benefactor.

"Many of the POW's," the committee went on, "knew too little about the United States and its ideals and traditions. So the Chinese indoctrinators had the advantage."

Some of them, asked to tell what they knew about American politics and history. Found out their Chinese captors knew more; some didn't know what the Communist program was all about; some had never heard of Marx.

To set up a system of educating young Americans in democracy, on the broadest possible scale—not only in college but in grammar and high schools—may call for a major overhauling in American education.

How can a young man be taught—not with clichés and slogan but with solid historical reasons—to prefer democracy to fascism or communism and be able to defend it?

Most students, somewhere between grammar school and college, get some instruction in political science. But that's machinery: how a government operates. The Americans teach one kind of political science, the Russians another.

But political philosophy—the story of man's struggle through the ages to shake off absolute rule by a king or group and stumble toward democratic rule—can give a youth a solid base for his preference for democracy by giving him a basis for comparison and an understanding of political opposites.

It seems safe to say a very tiny percentage of youths who go to schools in this country get a grounding in political philosophy.

Ohioans To Attend Event In Sweden

WEST UNION (AP)—Adams County, site of the 1957 world's plowing contest, will be represented at this year's event in Sweden in October.

Earl K. DeVore of Winchester, the general chairman for the 1957 World's Conservation Exposition and Plowing Contest, said arrangements are being made for an official delegation to attend the Swedish competition.

Tomato Cannery Dispute Dropped

WASHINGTON (AP)—A complaint against 14 tomato canners has been dismissed by a Federal Trade Commission FTC hearing examiner. The canners were accused of illegally boycotting a cooperative representing tomato growers in Ohio, Michigan and Indiana.

The dismissal is subject to review by the commission.

The FTC said its examiner, Everett F. Haycraft, found that all but three of the canners had boycotted Cannery Growers, Inc., the cooperative tomato growers group. But Haycraft said the boycott lasted only through the spring of 1951, and not the last four years.

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP)—Four members of a Martinsville family have been stricken with polio in a week's time.

Roger Pugh, 12, was hospitalized a week ago last Saturday. His mother, wife of a power shovel operator, and the Pughs' oldest son, Donald Lee, 16, were admitted to the same Roanoke, Va., hospital last Thursday. Four-year-old William was stricken last Friday.

All of the cases were of the non-paralytic type. A fourth son, Jerry, 14, and the father have shown no signs of illness.

3 Workhouse Escapees Sought

COLUMBUS (AP)—Three escapees from the Columbus Workhouse were still at large today. Four others who escaped with them early Saturday were captured yesterday. Found sleeping in a moving van here were Robert Staley, 24, of Cove in Jackson County, and Virgil Van Hoose, 33, Columbus. Arrested by Massillon police were Henry Gonzales, 23, Mansfield, and Leroy Hoffman, 20, Columbus. The three fugitives still at large are Robert McDaniel, 28, Mansfield, Jack Devine, 21, Columbus, and Lawrence Sullivan, 35 of nearby Briggsdale.

KILLER LADIES
FOR TWO WEEKS millions of Americans living along the eastern seaboard have been eyeing hurricanes three and four of the season—Connie and Diane — apprehensively and wondering what No. 4 would bring. Connie did an estimated $15 million in damage and caused more than 40 deaths. Because of the government's effective hurricane tracking and warning system and the usually slow movement of such storms, potential target areas generally have ample time to batten down the hatches. Shore residents are evacuated and movable property taken out of harm's way. Many lives are saved by the stepped up warning service.
But heavy seas abetting the high winds, which usually precede the hurricanes by several hundred miles, often pound houses and other structures near the shoreline into rubble. And a new pattern has been set by recent hurricanes, which head inland and finally expire many miles from the shoreline.
Whatever the explanation of applying feminine names to hurricanes, these manifestations of nature reveal vixenish fury.
Now that they are amply forewarned, some coastal residents have become more relaxed with their lady callers, getting in the way as spectators while workers try to prepare for the blow. This is like Americans—to be attentive to women regardless of temperament and the consequences.

OLD MAN IN HURRY
SOUTH KOREAN rioting against the United Nations Supervisory Commission is, of course, symptomatic of the republic's general restiveness over Geneva discussions between Red China and the U. S. It reflects a basic cleavage in the U. S. and South Korean approach toward ultimate unification of that unhappy peninsula.
Washington insists on a peaceful solution, and its constantly on guard lest Syngman Rhee should try unilaterally to reopen hostilities. The South Koreans are opposed to any action that would tend to freeze the status quo.
Seoul feels that the U. S. let down the South Koreans by failing to provide sufficient advance warning of Washington plans to confer with the Chinese. It is likely that Seoul would have attempted to create an unfavorable climate for the talks had Mr. Rhee been consulted beforehand. Unsubstantiated reports that the U. S. plans to reduce its troop commitments in South Korea have had a further unsettling effect.
As an octogenarian with life running out, Syngman Rhee strives for Korean unification in his time, despite the consequences. Western long-range policy is to secure a favorable settlement in the Far East based on the status quo.

American League baseball race is almost as hot as international rivalry. This one, however, will not be settled at the conference table.

Medical science has lengthened life. And politicians have added their bit to make life seem longer.

We Should Know Soon

By ED CREAUGH (For Hal Boyle)
WASHINGTON — "Well," said Mrs. Murgatroyd, over the morning coffee, "we should know this week."
Her husband allowed himself a critical analysis of the White Sox box score before inquiring who should know what this week. "About Margaret, of course," she replied.
"Margaret Fleming? Oh, no, I doubt if she'll have for another week or 10 days. I was talking to Pete yesterday."
"I mean Princess Margaret, you oaf," Mrs. Murgatroyd said, "and you knew perfectly well what I meant. Sunday was her 25th birthday."
"That's nice," Mr. Murgatroyd said. "Should we send a present?"
"Honestly," said Mrs. Murgatroyd, "Do you mean to tell me you don't know what's going to happen? Don't you read anything in the paper except the baseball news?"
"I read the obituaries," Mr. Murgatroyd said, "and the fun-

George E. Sokolsky's
These Days
The technique employed by Adlai Stevenson's managers is to give the impression that his nomination is in the bag. How can it be in the bag if he does not have the delegations of New York, Ohio, and Texas? But the Stevenson managers take the position that all they need to do is to announce that Stevenson will run and all Democrats will fall in line.

By the constant repetition of an attitude and by the most cleverly punctuated public relations, the Stevenson camp hopes to steam-roller the Democratic Convention so that he is nominated on the first ballot. It is a form of mass hypnosis like its Republican counterpart that Eisenhower cannot be defeated.

If the party managers continue along these lines, no one will have any reason for going to the polls as everything is all decided anyhow.
It is clear that Carmine DeSapio does not want Stevenson. He turned down Vincent Impellitteri for Mayor of New York and achieved the nomination of Robert Wagner and won. Wagner has made an extraordinarily good Mayor and New York has the most efficient Administration it has known in decades.

Then Carmine DeSapio turned down Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., for Governor of the State of New York. It was risky politics rejecting a Roosevelt in New York. Junior tried the same trick that Stevenson is employing—blitz the leaders into believing that it is in the bag.

When Junior lunched with Carmine DeSapio and Charles Buckley, the leader of the Bronx, and told them that all they had to do was to jump on his bandwagon, they gave him to understand that if he was so well-fixed, he did not need them. And that ended it. Averell Harriman was nominated and, beating the Dewey machine, was elected.

Last Spring, Charles Buckley delivered an address in which he told the A.D.A. and the Liberal Party that they were not wanted and that the Democrats in New York would have nothing further to do with them. Carmine DeSapio sat on the dais and applauded vociferously. That ended an alliance, which at one time included Communists, between the Democrats and the left-wingers, organized by Franklin D. Roosevelt to help keep Fiorello La Guardia in office.

Now comes the question of Adlai Stevenson. In the first place, DeSapio does not like Stevenson because he has had a tendency to be A.D.A. in thought, if not in membership. Secondly, most of his personal associates have been of the A.D.A. stripe. Thirdly, he ran, he was humiliatingly defeated, and during the nearly three years since his defeat, he has done nothing to strengthen himself.

As a matter of arithmetic, Stevenson was defeated by Democrats. He lost the Solid South to Eisenhower because of his radical connections. For what reason would he not lose the Solid South in 1956? He did not do too well in the Big Cities which Roosevelt had turned into fortresses of Democratic strength. For what reason would Stevenson do better in the Big Cities in 1956? What has Stevenson done since 1952 to strengthen his position besides meeting Eisenhower? And if Eisenhower is so perfect, how is he going to be defeated by Stevenson?

ies. If anything, the obituaries are a little more cheerful than the funnies these days. Remember 'way back when funnies used to be funny?"
"You are trying," said Mrs. Murgatroyd, who could see through him as if he were plate glass, "to change the subject. Princess Margaret wants to marry this Capt. Townsend. Her family, or Parliament, or somebody won't let her. But now that she's 25 she can do as she pleases."
"Nobody," Mr. Murgatroyd said, "can ever do as she pleases. But let's not go into that now. Why won't the powers that be let Margaret marry her captain? Do they think he can't support her on a captain's pay?"
"It's the matter of the divorce," said Mrs. Murgatroyd patiently. "He's divorced, and the church of England frowns on divorce."
Mr. Murgatroyd hadn't asked her, as a matter of fact, but he considered her judgment gravely.
"I'll bet it's pretty serious to Margaret and Peter," he said at last.

"Of course it is!" Mrs. Murgatroyd was in danger of violating her pledge never to lose her temper at breakfast. "I mean it's ridiculous that the poor girl shouldn't be allowed to marry the man of her choice!"
"You seem," Mr. Murgatroyd observed, "to have changed your views about divorce. I remember when the Hawkings split up you were fit to be—"
"That was entirely different," said Mrs. Murgatroyd. "Capt. Townsend was divorced years ago."
"If I understand you correctly," Mr. Murgatroyd said, "you are saying that a divorce is a perfectly dreadful thing if it happens today but is perfectly all right if it happened 10 years ago. How do you figure that?"
"There is no use discussing the matter further," said Mrs. Murgatroyd, with dignity.
Mrs. Murgatroyd was radiant, suddenly, and feeling rather like a bride-to-be herself, saying: "Oh, dear, I do hope everything works out all right for everybody!"

CHAPTER TWENTY-FIVE

TRAPPED in the elevator, Sara thought: Who knows about my fear of the elevator? Sallust. And Judith. And Gerry.
What inhuman cunning plotted this way to break me down, by striking one sharp blow at the point where there's already a fault in the structure of my mind? Just like a calculated hammer tap that cleaves a rough diamond along the plane of its flaw.

"Well, Sara. I'm waiting. Are you still conscious? Can you still hear me? I shan't wait much longer."
"Let me out and I'll tell you."
"Why should you tell me once you're out? I'm not taking any chances. But you must—either way. The last moments won't be nice, Sara. When the drowsiness comes with the shortness of breath and you realize that the end of everything is upon you and there is nothing you can do about it. For, by that time, you won't even have breath left to whisper the one thing that might induce me to release you."

"I'm going to die. Whether I speak or not, I shall not be released. What has the voice to gain by releasing me, once the secret is told? If I survived, there would always be a chance that I might recognize the voice later. Then I would know who had finally got the ruby and I might tell the police. But if I didn't survive, what clue would there be to the ruby's whereabouts or to the identity of the person who pulled the main switch?"

"You're trapped. You can't get out. And I'm leaving now. Good-by."

"No! Don't go." Her voice was hoarse, her lips pressed to the crack between the doors. "I'll tell you. Wait!"
No answer.
She screamed. "Come back! I'll tell you!"

The chances were 99 to a 100 that she would not be released, but that hundredth chance was the only one she had.

Silence. Then she heard a footstep. It was muffled on the rubber-tiled floor but her straining ears were abnormally acute just then and she could hear the ominous, familiar cadence of a light limp.

"Yes? Better be quick."
"I will." Panting again. Stop. Don't use up the last slender ration of oxygen. "The ruby—" Light blazed.

The shock was like being doused with a bucketful of icy waters. Speechless, unbelieving, she stared at the four walls of the elevator. She had never expected to see them again.

Her mind moved grittily like a rusted machine. Light. That meant there was someone else in the building. Someone had discovered the lights were off, looked for a blown fuse, seen the main switch out of line and pulled it back into place.

There was a quiver. The elevator resumed its interrupted ascent, as if nothing had happened. She struggled to her feet. She put her thumb on the call button and held it down. The world was full of a wild, shrill jangling as she plunged into blackness.

Cool air caressed her cheeks, stirred slowly as if they were veiled. She was in the elevator. It was standing still, but the doors were open. A man knelt beside her—dark-browed, unsmiling. For a moment she thought it was Gerry. Then she saw a slight weakness in the jaw line and a cheek without the blemish of three small moles. It was the false Gerry.

Through the open doorway, she saw Judith standing in the hall, amber eyes wide, red lips parted.

Sara gasped. "Did you see him? Has he gone?"

"Who?" demanded the impostor. "The man who pulled the main switch when I was in the elevator?"

"How do you know it was a man?"
"He spoke to me through the door. He threatened to let me die in there. At least I think it was a man, I'm not sure. The voice was almost a whisper, quite sexless."

"We didn't see anyone," said Judith quickly. "I went out to dinner with a client. When I came back, the lights in the hall weren't working. I looked at the fuse box in the hall. The main switch was out of position. I put it back in place and the elevator alarm rang. The hand on the dial above the elevator was moving then from second to third, so I ran up the fire stairs. When I got up here on the third floor the elevator was standing still and the doors were open. You were lying in it unconscious. I heard someone downstairs in the lower hall and I called out, 'Who's there?' It was Gerry, who had just come in."

"Then the man who trapped me went up the fire stairs," Sara struggled to her feet. "He didn't go downstairs because you didn't meet him on your way up, and he didn't use the elevator while I was unconscious because it's still here. He must have gone up to the roof."
"Maybe he's still there." The impostor ran toward the fire stairs. Sara staggered as she came out of the elevator. Judith put out a steady hand. "Sara, you've always hated this elevator. You must have panicked alone in the dark, looked in and believing something was wrong with the machinery. Couldn't you have imagined a voice whispering? Didn't it sound like that?"

"I don't. This man isn't Gerry." "Then who is he?"

"He may be a former movie actor named Mark Clifford, but whoever he is, he isn't Gerry."

He could act. There was no start of surprise, no look of alarm, only weariness.

Some Ways To Relieve A Hot Weather Trouble

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

WITH everyone perspiring more freely these hot summer days, you've got to be especially careful about underarm odor.

Millions of dollars have been spent, and many millions more have been netted in profit, on special preparations claiming to halt the offensive odor. Some of them work pretty well. But there are other precautions you can take to guard yourself against offending.

Recent Tests

First of all, you must understand that it isn't the perspiration itself which creates the odor. Tests have shown that fresh sterile sweat from the apocrine glands, which are particularly numerous in the armpits, has remained odorless for as long as two weeks.

It's the bacterial growth in apocrine sweat which creates the odor. Thus, to eliminate the odor, you must eliminate the bacteria on your skin.

Tests have proved that certain antibiotics such as tyrothralin and chemicals such as hexachlorophene, for example, reduce the number of bacteria on the skin for a considerable length of time. Preparations containing aluminum chloride also halt odor. X-ray therapy usually helps, too.

Bacteria causing the odor find a protective refuge in the hair under the arm. Since it is virtually impossible to sterilize this hair, your deodorants will remain effective longer and provide more complete protection if the hair is removed.

Change Frequently

Your clothes also act as a haven for the bacteria by absorbing the apocrine sweat. Consequently, underwear should be changed and washed frequently and outer clothing should be laundered or dry cleaned. Of course it's also important to bathe frequently.

Simple remedies for curbing excessive sweating are lotions such as 5 per cent tannic acid, or 5 per cent zinc sulfate, in 70 per cent alcohol. Wipe the skin dry and dab on the lotion several times a day.

More Effective

An application of 25 per cent aluminum chloride in water, once every three days, is much stronger and remains effective longer. Since it is quite acid, don't use any soap before applying it. And don't let your clothing become wet with this strong solution. However, some people cannot tolerate it at all.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

H.S.A.: Could you tell me what could be done for liver trouble?
Answer: It is not possible to suggest the proper treatment for you as there are different types of liver disorders. Your physician would be best qualified to make such suggestions as he would be thoroughly familiar with the exact liver condition present.

Try, Stop Me

Matt Weinstock tells of a head accountant who labored for a big publisher for forty years. Every morning he unlocked his desk at 8:30 on the nose, peered into the center drawer for a moment, then looked everything up again. What was in that center drawer? Assistants, visiting salesmen, even the publisher himself, never came close to solving the mystery.
One day the accountant died suddenly and, after a decent interval, everybody rushed to pry open the center drawer. It was found to contain just one little slip of paper. Printed in capital letters thereon were the words: THE SIDE TOWARD THE WINDOW IS THE DEBIT SIDE.

Rural Arts Contest Winners Selected From County Clubs

Groups To Compete In District Test

The Pickaway County 4-H Club recreation and rural arts program was held in St. Phillips parish house.

The winners of this program will represent Pickaway County in the district competition to be held Wednesday at the Ross County Fairgrounds.

A vocal music contest for two or more was won by the "Six Ranges" from the Monroe Stitches Club: Barbara Stover, Fonda Liston, Patsy Willis, Arlene Finch, Roberta Lightle, and Carolyn Mowery.

"Mary and Her Conscience" was the title of a dramatic winner for two or more individuals. Participants were: Linda Baum, Carol Ann Newton, Alice Baum, Velma Ruhn, Carol Baum, Carol Jinks, Sandy Stover, Dixie Stover, Rose Ann McGlone, Sharlene Lowe, and Nancy Baker. This group represented the Duvall Busy Fingers 4-H Club. Mrs. Frank Baum and Mrs. Robert Newton are the advisors.

A dancing demonstration for two or more was won with a ballet number presented by Paula K. Francis and Paula K. Denham, members of the Cook, Sew, and Chatter 4-H Club.

The instrumental music competition was won by a duet, with Gary Dean and his saxophone and June Owens and her clarinet. Their accompanist was Mrs. Anthony Wojciak. Gary belongs to the Westfall Livestock Club and June is a member of Homemakers of Tomorrow Club.

Judges for the entire event were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haney and Mrs. Ross Hamilton.

Any of the above county winners, who do as well in the district competition will then compete in a state contest, to be held during the Ohio 4-H Club Congress in Columbus.

Saturday Bride Is Honor Guest At Shower Party

Mrs. Chester Fausnaugh of Ashville Route 2 and Mrs. Robert Neff of Columbus entertained a group of relatives and friends at a bridal shower.

The affair honored their niece, Miss Gloria Ann Lynch, who is to become the bride of John David Adams of Steutsville on Saturday.

Several contests were enjoyed by the group, with Mrs. Lewis Lynch, Miss Betty Adams and Miss Bonnie McPherson as winners. The winners later presented their gifts to the guest of honor.

The gifts for the honoree guest were placed under a large umbrella, decorated in pink and white. A streamer fell from the umbrella to each gift. Refreshments were served by the hostesses at the close of the evening.

Those present were: Miss Lynch and Mr. Adams, honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Welliver, Mrs. Ralph Adams and Miss Adams of Steutsville, and Mrs. William Cady of Circleville.

Mrs. Sarah Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Charles King, Miss Joan King and Mrs. Lillian Griffith, all of Columbus; Mrs. Roy Frazier, Miss McPherson and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fausnaugh, all of Ashville; Mr. and Mrs. Neff and sons, Michael and Bruce and Mr. and Mrs. Fausnaugh and daughter, Nancy.

Gifts also were sent by: Mrs. Russel Good, Miss Bessie Good and Miss Sharon Lynch.

Pickaway County 4-H Activities

The members and advisors of the Logan Elm Sunny Sewers 4-H club honored the mothers of the girls at a tea. Preceding the tea, Mrs. Leora Sayre graded the girls' projects and the members presented a style review of their dresses and suits.

Mrs. Sayre announced that all members received "A" grades and could participate in the county judging.

Sidney Graves was chosen by the members to participate in the county 4-H "Heart Contest". This is an award given to an outstanding girl for service and leadership.

The center piece for the tea table was an arrangement of white gladioli and yellow zinnias, made by Sharon Sharrett. Pale green candles flanked the floral arrangement.

The following members and guests were present: Mrs. B. W. Young, Mrs. Renick Dunlap, Mrs. Joe Goeller, Mrs. Carl Smith, Mrs. Allen Woolever, Mrs. Harry Sharrett, Mrs. Howard Glick, Mrs. Hester Watson, Mrs. Curtis Bower, Mrs. Wells Wilson, Mrs. Wendell Lauderman, Mrs. Virgil Hayslip and Mrs. Francis Dean.

Deanna Beam, Teresa Rhoads, Carol Ginter, Janet Bower, Josiane Glick, Mary Ann Morris, Ann Smith, Sharon Sharrett, Beverly Woolever, Joyce Hayslip, Mary Ellen Goeller, Patsy Lauderman, Patty Watson, Carolyn Dean, Linda Miller, Barbara Ginter, Linda Wilson, Sidney Graves, Mrs. Sayre, and the advisors, Mrs. Frank Graves and Mrs. Vera Miller.

The annual tour of gardens of members of the Grow and Glow Junior Garden club began in the early morning at the home of Jane and Patty Hockman.

Mrs. Leora Sayre served as judge of the gardens, and interviewed each member during the tour of her garden project. Constructive criticism and evaluation of good points was presented by the county home demonstration agent.

Included among the gardens inspected during the morning tour were those of: Jayne Bayes, Beverly McKenzie, Nancy Wilson and Janice Umstead.

Following a noon picnic at Gold Cliff Park, the group visited the gardens of Janet and Sandra Grisom, Bonnie Duleson, and Joyce Miller.

Refreshments were served by the club leaders in the Miller home, and a program of group singing was enjoyed by the club members. Joyce Miller served as accompanist at the piano.

On the following morning, the gardens of Sharon Sharrett, Patty Moats, Kay Ann Fout, Donna Hardman, Patty Strous and Ann Swartz were toured and judged.

A picnic lunch was enjoyed at

Drinking Habits Of Americans Show Change

Housework Inspires Most Coffee Imbibing, Detailed Poll Reveals

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Seems the drinking habits of Americans aren't as uniform as are their TV-viewing or movie-going folk ways. Tastes and indulgences—in entirely innocent forms of elbow bending, let's hasten to add—vary from section to section, and change markedly from year to year. New Englanders are likely to imbibe more coffee, tea, fruit and vegetable juices in a day than any other variety of American. In the South they down more soft drinks, milk, and chocolate milk than anywhere in the land. Out West they drink more restaurant coffee per person. And in the Southeast instant coffee has its greatest appeal.

All this was gleaned from a "beverage survey". This is an age of surveys, with not even one's subconscious any longer private. So perhaps it's inevitable that a tally is taken of what liquid, and how much, Americans swallow on a "typical day."

With all surveys it's a wise idea to know for whom the poll-taker tolls and why. This look at non-alcoholic beverage quaffing was made by a professional firm for the Pan-American Coffee Bureau. And 8,000 persons were queried as to what, if anything, they'd had besides water the day before.

If you're wondering whether the survey was ordered because the importation of coffee beans fell off after the price went up a couple of years back, the bureau says, no, this is just the fifth in a series of beverage studies.

The Department of Agriculture, also curious about coffee drinking, chimes in with the estimate that this year Americans will buy about 15.7 pounds apiece — one more pound than last year but still one pound less than in 1953 before the price went up.

Since the coffee bureau's previous survey, a year ago, drinking of coffee in the home has gone up six per cent. The bureau reports that most cups per person are quaffed at home in the northwest central section: Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and North and South Dakota.

Housework is the occupation that inspires most such imbibing—almost three cups a day per housewife.

Proves of people apparently cut down on their drinking of coffee in restaurants. Consumption is off 22 per cent this year. One reason might be that while in 1950 only about one-third of the eating places charged 10 cents a cup, now three-fourths of them do—and some of the other fourth charge more.

Instant coffee continues to gain, with breakfast consumption now averaging out nationwide at about one sixth of a cup a person. The highest consumption, one half cup a person, is reported in the Southeast—set forth in the survey as Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida.

New Englanders seem to have the greatest capacity and to favor more than one type of beverage each day. Of those interviewed 81 per cent had downed a cup or more of coffee the day before; one half had taken tea; one half had fruit and vegetable juices; and almost as many had consumed milk or chocolate milk. Apparently they mix their drinks there.

This Newspaper Row Is Dirty and Noisy

Young and old, all gather on Avenida Bucareli to pick up their newspapers, and eat charcoal-cooked filled and fried tortillas.

By EMIL ZUBRYN
Central Press Association Correspondent

MEXICO CITY—Newspaper Row in this city is but a block long, but on it are the three major morning newspapers, three afternoon, a national newspaper chain, and most major international wire services.

The "Park Row" or "Fleet Street" of Mexico is by no means as picturesque as New York's or London's downtown Newspaper Rows in the days of their glory. Avenida Bucareli is an undistinguished, rather dirty and noisy street stretching for several miles. The newspaper block is just off the statue of Charles IV, or "El Caballito," as it is known, at the junction where Bucareli meets with Avenida Juarez and Reforma.

Mexico's Newspaper Row comes to life each day before dawn, at four o'clock, when a steady stream of news vendors concentrate on Bucareli to obtain their supply of daily papers. As the rush to jobs begins between 8 and 10, the paper sellers take up their chant of "Esstras" at every corner, boarding buses, and waving headlines at the constant stream of motor traffic.

The hurried, rushed tempo of Bucareli gains momentum as the hours of day pass. Reporters, messenger boys, photographers and press men rush in and out of buildings. Huge trucks unload the precious newspaper rolls, oftentimes scarce, while more dilapidated delivery trucks take on late editions to be rushed to airports, bus and rail terminals.

IN THE EARLY hours of the morning, when the presses are humming, rolling out hundreds of thousands of papers, the pavement of Bucareli literally trembles from the impact of machines reproducing the printed word for readers in all parts of the republic.

Modern newspaper publishing in Mexico is a mere infant dating back to the outbreak of a Mexican revolution four decades ago. Now Mexico's press is a leader in Latin American journalism, and the republic is a jealous guardian of freedom of the press as well as democratic freedoms.

An editor in Mexico, when he wants to criticize the regime or speak up on a controversial issue, does so with eloquent if bombastic phrases. If there is nothing of the moment that can make for controversy, editors dig back into the past to exercise their right of freedom of the press.

ONE of the greatest delights of tourists who master the Spanish language is to read the Mexican reports of murder, adultery, graft, etc. The headlines and the reporting cannot be adequately translated into English, but is a peculiar brand of naive half-serious, half tongue-in-cheek style that has no counterpart elsewhere in the world.

While Mexico claims the first printing press was set up here in the early colonial days of New Spain, with scandal sheets attacking influential persons, the true newspapers of the people actually were "talking" newspapers, or more properly, "singing" newspapers.

The "newspapers" were minstrels who wove into their songs the "news of the day," including the choicest gossip, scandals, etc., and even "singing advertisements" which called for a maid, or butcher, or baker, etc. A man seeking employment paid the minstrel to advertise the fact.

The only trouble with the "singing newspapers" was the minstrels often were too outspoken in their criticism of the government. They sang, then ran.

Shotgun Death Said Accidental

COLUMBUS (AP)—A 43-year-old Columbus man says a shotgun he was holding discharged accidentally, killing Ollie Mae Smith, 39.

R. L. Dickerson, 43, was held for investigation in the Saturday night shooting at the Smith woman's home here. Deputies said the victim's common law husband, William Moss, 43, told them Dickerson fled following the shooting. Dickerson was arrested a few hours later near his home.

History Notes Many Floods In America

As Northeast States
Count Loss, Johnstown
Recalls Its Disaster

By The Associated Press

As the northeastern states continued over the weekend to count its loss in lives and property, historians recalled the many major floods of the past.

The worst loss of life occurred in the great Johnstown, Pa., disaster of 1889—more than 2,000 died.

Other great floods through the years included:

1856—waves lashed by gales engulfed Last Isle, La., and drowned 400 persons attending a ball.

1874—a dam burst in Mill River Valley, Mass., and surging waters took the lives of 144 persons. Another 220 died in western Pennsylvania floods.

1881—the Mississippi and Ohio Valley, counted 138 drowned and 15 million dollars in property damages from high waters.

1903—a cloudburst left 300 dead in Heppner, Ore.

1912—200 drowned in the Mississippi Valley and property damage was estimated at 45 millions.

1913—400 lives were lost and the city of Dayton, Ohio, was nearly wiped out. In the states of Ohio and Indiana, a total of 730 persons lost their lives. Sixty thousand buildings were destroyed and property losses were put at 180 millions.

1916—deaths totaled 100 and damages five million in Cabin Creek Valley, West Virginia. Fifty died along the south Atlantic coast.

1921—Pueblo, Colo., listed 120 dead and 140 missing.

1927—Ohio and Mississippi Valley floods took a toll estimated at from 300 to 900 lives.

1928—a dam failure near Los Angeles, Calif., left 250 dead and 15,000 homeless. There were 2,000 victims of a flood at Lake Okechobee, Fla., caused by rains and a hurricane.

1935—the death count reached 250 in eastern U.S. floods.

1936—rampaging rivers swept 13 states from Maine to Virginia—including the states currently ravaged by flood waters. There were 168 deaths, 429,000 left homeless and more than half a billion dollars in property losses.

1937—a death toll estimated at 400 to 900 in what came to be known as the "big Louisville flood." Property damage 500 million.

1951—damages of more than a billion dollars suffered in devastating floods on the Missouri and Mississippi Rivers. Vital industrial districts of Kansas City and other points were inundated. Deaths totaled 31.

Redleg Rookie Goes Route Second Time

CINCINNATI (AP) — Thirty times

this season the same Cincinnati

Redleg pitcher who started a game was around at the finish. Two of these route — going performances were turned in by rookie Don

Gross, up from Nashville of the Southern Association a little more than a month.

In his first nine inning stint Aug.

17, Gross was edged out by Chicago 3-2. But yesterday the 24-year-old lefthander shut out the

St. Louis Cardinals 4-0 on four hits for his second major league victory against two setbacks.

Gross gave up two walks, boosting his total to 8 in 47 innings, and was in a jam only in the seventh inning. Harry Elliott and Bill Ver-don singled in the frame and the bases were loaded when Bill Sarni walked. But Gross fanned pinch-hitter Pete Whisenant to end the inning and the threat. In no other inning did the Cards get a man past first base. He retired the Cardinals in order in the eighth and ninth.

The three-game sweep at the expense of seventh place St. Louis tightened the Reds' hold on fifth place but they were unable to narrow the first division gap.

Fourth place Philadelphia also won three in a row and are still two games ahead of the Reds.

Wally Post, the best hitting rightfielder in the National League, drove in three runs with his 31st home run of the season and a single. The homer, off losing pitcher Harvey Haddix, broke up the scoreless tie in the sixth.

Johnny Temple, who had singled and advanced a base on each of two outs, was on third at the time.

The Reds added two insurance runs off Luis Arroyo in the eighth.

The only two players in the history of the Pittsburgh Pirates to have won the National League's Most Valuable Player award were Paul Waner in 1927 and Arky Vaughan in 1935.

Pro Football Looks Better Than In 1954

CHICAGO (AP)—Now that the National Football League teams are getting down to business it's beginning to look like the top teams of '54 are still tough and the weaker teams are starting to improve.

The mighty Cleveland Browns, after losing to the College All-Stars Aug. 12, came back to nip the Green Bay Packers 13-7 Saturday night in Akron while the New York Giants punched out a 28-17 victory over the San Francisco 49ers in Seattle.

Last year's lowly Baltimore Colts went on a rampage, trouncing the Ft. Belvoir, Va., Engineers 61-0 in Westminster, Md., and last year's western division cellar-dwellers, the Chicago Cardinals, downed their crosstown rivals, the Chicago Bears, 21-6 in Jacksonville, Fla.

Fred Morrison tallied the Browns' touchdown while Lou Groza kicked two fieldgoals. The Packers scored in the opening quarter on Tobin Rote's sneak.

The passing of quarterback Don Heinrich and the running of chunky Bobby Epps carried the Giants to scores in every quarter while the 49ers were blanked through the second half.

Rookies George Shaw, Alan Ameche and L. G. Dupre led Baltimore to their first victory.

Ollie Matson and Dave Mann paced the Cardinal running game and the fine passing of Lamar McHan enabled the Chicagoans to score one touchdown in the second and two in the last half.

A knighthood is not hereditary and does not pass from generation to generation.

Sokolsky's These Days

The position of Carmine DeSapio would be that Stevenson does not have an outside chance of being elected; therefore why should he be nominated? Is that an admission of the Democratic Party that it is running for defeat in 1956? Is it sound for a party ever to run for defeat? Are there no men in the Democratic Party who might win? Does the Party have to accept the Republican slogan that Eisenhower is unbeatable? Is not such a slogan itself in the nature of a public relations Blitzkrieg?

At any rate, this is the nature of New York Democratic thinking on the subject of Adlai Stevenson and obviously as long as the leaders think that way, Stevenson will not get the New York delegation unless there is no other candidate.

The New Yorkers like Averell Harriman, but they would take Governor Frank Lausche of Ohio: they would take Governor Shivers of Texas. They do not become estatic over either Senator Kefauver or Senator Symington who once was quite a hero in these parts before the McCarthy television show. But Stevenson, they do not want, as they do not want the A.D.A.

700 Marksmen Start Firing For Glory In Roaring Grand

VANDALIA, Ohio (P)—The 56th Grand American Trapshoot—world series of the clay target game—got under way here today with about 700 marksmen from all parts of the western hemisphere competing.

The day's program called for 200 targets at 16 yards during which several minor championships were to be decided. Among them were the husband-and-wife, parent-child and brother-and-brother championships and veterans' titles for men 70 and over and women 50 and over.

Another feature called for the women champions of the various states to battle it out for the championship of champion laurels in a shoulder to - shoulder 100-target event.

Only a few of the 700 entrants were in the special races, the majority firing the 200-target race as a tuneup for bigger events to come over the same route.

Tuesday brings up the class championships in which each entrant fires against opponents of comparable ability, and Wednesday offers the North American Clay Target Championship, the big prize for the 16-yard gunners.

Meeting Date Set For Men Bowlers

There will be an organizational meeting of the Wednesday Night Bowling League, which will take place Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the alleys.

Team captains and sponsors are invited to attend. Walter Zahard is president of the league.

Is Brooklyn Heading For Another Flop?

Complete Collapse Needed, But Dodgers Have Done It Before

The Associated Press

Baseball folks were beginning to wonder today, whether Brooklyn may be heading for what would be the most spectacular smash-up in the long Dodger tradition of blowing pennants.

Actually, it would take a complete collapse by Brooklyn together with an incredible finish by either of the two contenders—Milwaukee or New York—to accomplish the miracle. But those who still recall the late-season slides of 1942 and 1951 are convinced nothing is impossible.

Win or lose, the Dodgers certainly haven't looked like pennant winners since the All-Star break, playing eight games under .500 ball since July 9. Beaten for the third straight time by Philadelphia Sunday, 6-4, the Dodgers limped home with a record of 10 losses in their last 14 games. Their 16 1/2-game lead of Aug. 12 over Milwaukee was trimmed to 11 in nine days.

The Braves, continuing their battle against huge odds, won their fifth in a row Sunday, humbling the Chicago Cubs 8-1, and Cincinnati shut out St. Louis 4-0 behind the four-hit pitching of rookie Don Gross.

Ross, washed out the scheduled double-header between the Giants and Pirates in Pittsburgh.

Chicago's relentless White Sox climbed within half a game of New York's American League-leading Yankees, sweeping a double-header from Detroit 2-0 and 8-2. Righthander Dick Donovan, just three weeks after undergoing an appendectomy, followed a four-hitter by Connie Johnson with a well-spaced eight-hitter for his 14th victory in 18 decisions.

The Yankees, on a winning skid of their own, dumped Baltimore 6-1. Don Larsen pitched a six-hitter. It was the Yankees' 10th victory in the last 11 starts.

Cleveland's third-place Indians remained one game from the top, walloping Kansas City 9-4 although held to seven hits by loser, Al Dittmar. Ten bases on balls, together with home runs by Larry Doby and Gene Woodling, helped the Tribe's cause. Woodling, the ex-Yankee, also singled in two other runs.

Boston's Red Sox remained very much in the running, vanquishing Washington 4-1 to remain 4 1/2 games off the pace. A three-run outburst against loser Chuck Stobbs in the eighth snapped a 1-1 deadlock and gave rookie George Susce his seventh triumph.

The slumping Dodgers managed only six hits off winner Herman Wehmeier, who won his 10th for the Phillies with the help of reliever Jack Meyer. Homers accounted for all Philadelphia's runs off six Dodger hurlers. Willie Jones hit a grand slammer in his third. Glen Gorbous and Del Ennis also homered to give the Phils an early 6-0 lead.

Veteran outfielders Bobby Thomson and Andy Pafko rapped three hits apiece and Thomson drove in three runs to spark the Braves to victory over the Cubs. Righthander Bob Buhl spaced seven hits for his 12th victory.

Outfielder Wally Post drove in three runs with his 31st home run and a single in the Reds' victory over the Cardinals. Harvey Haddix was the victim.

Minnie Minoos, with six hits in nine times at bat in the twin bill, broke up a scoreless pitching duel between Johnson and loser Billy Hoert when

Preview Of Six-Man Football Set Sept. 10 At Fairgrounds

League Will Be Made Up Of Seven Teams; Features Wide Open, Razzle-Dazzle Play

Six man football, which captured the fancy of Pickaway County last year, will again spread its wide open band of play this season.

Six Pickaway County teams and one from Fairfield County will comprise the league. Ashville, Darby, Jackson, Pickaway, Walnut and Williamsport are the local entries with Stoutsville, of Fairfield County, completing the roster.

A preview will be held on Saturday night, Sept. 10 at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds. Each team will play two quarters, starting at 7:30 p. m.

Fans will recall the wide open, fascinating type of play used in the six man game. Basically, the rules are the same as in regulation 11-man football but are modified for six-man play.

FOR EXAMPLE, a team must go 15 yards for a first down instead of ten. The field is 80 yards long, not 100. The man who gets the snap from the center cannot cross the line of scrimmage — in some way he must pass or hand it off to another man.

The teams, as a matter of necessity, come up with some amazing displays of razzle-dazzle. Many fans agree this type of football is the most exciting to watch.

Everyone is invited out to the Fairgrounds to see the preview. The regular season will start the following Friday afternoon during the Fair here. This will be the only time the teams will play in the afternoon; after that, they will play on Saturday nights.

Last year, Walnut's Tigers won

Jerry H. Enters Event At London

Jerry H., Clarence Helvering's fine pacer, has been entered in a free-for-all pace at London around the middle of the week.

Posting some fast times, Jerry H. had several wins last week. The most recent was a double-heat victory in the Harry Stokes Memorial Trophy 2:17 Pace event at Springfield.

Winning the first heat in 2:06, Jerry H. came back to lead all the way in the second with a time of 2:05.2.

Jerry H. will probably be an entrant at the harness racing during the Pickaway County Fair.

AT FIRST GLANCE it appears that this is an ordinary race finish as the 85th racing season opened at Saratoga Springs, N.Y., but it wasn't. There are two horses crossing the finish line in a dead heat and brother, you've got to look twice to see 'em. The two are Great Artist, on the outside, and Pinuhta on the rail. (International)

Ex-Rifle Champ Leads Pack Again

CAMP PERRY (AP)—Arthur Cook of Washington, D. C., who was only 18 when he won his first National Small Bore Rifle Championship seven years ago, has marked himself as a man to beat in this year's contest.

He scored 1597 out of a possible 1600 yesterday to take a two point lead over the field of 500 at the end of the first day of the four-day shoot.

When he won his title in 1948, he was the youngest champion in the history of the sport. That same summer he won a gold medal for the United States at the Olympic games in London.

TOMMY GIBBONS (left) and Jack Dempsey put on boxing gloves and strike a fighting pose as they reminisce in Milwaukee about their heavyweight title bout in Shelby, Mont., back on July 4, 1923. Dempsey, the defending champion, won that one in 15 rounds. Jack is in Milwaukee to referee a bout. (International)

Chuck Davey Due To End Retirement

NEW YORK (AP)—Chuck Davey, onetime idol of television boxing fans, ends a 15-month "retirement" tonight when he faces Pat Manzi, of Syracuse, N. Y., in Saginaw, Mich., in a 10-round non-televvised bout.

Tonight's network TV fight matches middleweights Rinzi Nocero (25-2-0) of New York and Paola Melis (32-8-2), the former Italian welter champion now living in Montreal. The two meet here in a 10-rounder.

Clinton Countians Top Horseshoe Test

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two Clinton County flingers battled in extra games yesterday for the Ohio horseshoe title and the steadiness of Stanley Manker of Martinsville took the title.

Manker edged out the defending champion, Harold Reno of Sabina, taking two straight games in which was to be a two-out-of-three series. The men were tied with 14 victories and 1 defeat in the 16-man competition.

Only 3 Teaching Positions Vacant In County School System

Wm. Pangburn Successor To G. Cronenwett

Williamsport Hires
Roy Hutcheson As Coach Of Athletics

Several important teaching positions in Pickaway County schools have been filled, according to an announcement by George McDowell, county superintendent.

William Pangburn, a native of Preble County, has been hired to teach instrumental music at Ashville-Harrison School. He replaces Gene Cronenwett, who resigned. Pangburn will graduate from Ohio State University in December.

The coaching job at Williamsport, left vacant when Art Holliday resigned, has been filled with the hiring of Roy Hutcheson. Hutcheson is 29, married and has a four-year old son.

He is a native of Elwood, Ind. and has four years of coaching experience. He is a graduate of Transylvania College in Lexington, Ky. and an Air Force veteran of World War II. He will teach science in addition to his coaching duties.

BARRING ANY resignations, there are only a few vacancies left in the county school system. They are:

A commercial teacher at Williamsport; and a combination English, math and girls physical education teacher at Darby and a second grade teacher at Scioto.

Additional positions filled during the month of August also include the following:

ASHVILLE-HARRISON
Miss Dorothy Edwards — will teach English, Spanish and Latin. A graduate of Capital University, Miss Edwards has six years of experience and will take additional schooling at Ohio State University.

DARBY
Mrs. Jean Smith — will teach the second grade. Formerly of Ashville, she has taught in Wisconsin and succeeds Mrs. Elizabeth Ward, who resigned.

MADISON
Mrs. Zona Waters — will teach the first and second grades. A native of Groveport, Mrs. Waters is a graduate of Ohio University. She has eight years of experience and last taught in Franklin Township School.

MONROE
Mrs. Frank Lands — will teach home economics and social science. She is a graduate of OU and has three years of experience.

SALTCREEK
Harold E. (Gene) Kerns — will teach the seventh and eighth grades. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. V. D. Kerns, of Circleville, and graduate from OU a week ago.

SCIOTO
George Daniels — will teach physical science and math. A native of Morrow County, he is a graduate of Otterbein College.

NEW HOLLAND
Mrs. Ethel Owens — will teach

FRAUDULENT INDIAN CURIOS FLOODING WESTERN MARKET

Sometimes even the Indians can't spot the factory-made product. Mixed together here are genuine Indian curios and some phonies.

By REX STANLEY

Central Press Association Correspondent
PHOENIX, Ariz.—Before you buy that "genuine Indian curio" these days, take a tip from expert traders: factories are turning out imitations of Indian jewelry, blankets and other souvenirs by the carload. "It's a big, million-dollar-a-year racket," say the experts, "with imitations so good that even some Indians can't tell the difference. The west is being flooded with the stuff."

First news of the widespread deception came recently when several white and Indian traders met to compare notes. Most of them had intercepted some factory-made curios in trading. One Navajo trader had bought counterfeit jewelry thinking it was real. Investigation showed imitations for sale in many stores.

"Cheap alloys are used for the silver jewelry, low-grade cotton for blankets, junk matting for baskets," complain the traders. Real Indian jewelry is made of pure silver up to 900 fine, blankets of wool, and baskets of sun-cured reeds. "Turquoise" in the phoney jewelry, point out the experts, is blue glass.

"THERE'S NO handicraft in a curio made by machinery," explains an Indian silversmith. "However, the factory stuff even imitates the tool marks of hand hammering or shaping."

Prices for the assembly-line souvenirs are as high or higher than the genuine articles. Some blankets checked ran $50 to $100.

"You can buy the same blanket in a slightly different design for $15 in any department store," claim the traders. "A real Indian blanket or rug of comparable size might cost $35."

The linked silver ornaments called "concho belts" are frequently imitated by thin plating on copper, set with colored glass or cheap turquoise. Prices can run as high as $70 for what the experts describe as "50 cents worth of machine-stamped metal."

the third grade. She replaces Mrs. Robert Bush.

WILLIAMSPORT
Mrs. C. R. Acton — is returning as a part-time teacher in music.

Accordianist Hurls Liberace Challenge For Musical Duel

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Handsome Dick Contino wants to take on Liberace—no holds barred. The challenge he hurls is a musical one, of course.

Contino is to the accordion what Liberace is to the piano — except for one thing. The accordion right now can't play in the same musical league with the piano. Symphony orchestras, for instance, do not use accordions.

"The reason for this," explains Contino, "is because of accordianists themselves. They're content to let the public go on thinking it's merely an instrument for playing the polkas at a Polish wedding."

"Modern accordions are like fine organs. We can make them sound like flutes, piccolos or any other instrument. I can sit in the sax section of any orchestra and make my accordion sound like a saxophone."

Virginia Woman Killed In Vandalia

DAYTON (AP)—A 41-year-old Virginia woman was shot and killed in a motel in Vandalia last night. Police said a Kentucky man admitted the shooting, claiming she threatened his life.

The victim was Miss Helen Love, whose hometown was not known. Police said she was shot at close range by a 12-gauge shotgun while lying on the motel bed. Vandalia police said Barney Morgan, 46, of Harlan, Ky., admitted the shooting. He was taken to Montgomery County jail here.

Thieves Outfox Cautious Grocer

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Donald L. Rudnick kept his safe in the floodlighted front window of his grocery, believing it was secure in such an exposed position.

However, he discovered Sunday that thieves had quietly rolled the 700-pound safe away during the night and replaced it with a cardboard box painted to resemble the safe.

He said the missing safe contained $1,974 and about $400 in checks.

accordion and even plays good piano. What if Liberace decides to challenge him on the piano?

"I'll run like hell and deny everything," comments the onetime Fresno butcherboy.
